

BAIA

Baia One Hundred, from stern to bow is one large "open air" living space.

The principle behind this open yacht is to offer living and easily accessible spaces in a brand-new way. There are no boundaries between the stern and the bow. The very slim windshield leaves much more space at the bow to create a dining/living area, which is directly connected to the interiors through the innovative opening at the bow. At the stern, a second living area is enriched with a large foot-board. A revolutionary foldaway door divides the living area from the cockpit.
